

Space mission

I don't know how I became a astronaut. It was like some one came to my house and said "you are now a astronaut!" Now I am sitting in this rocket, waiting for liftoff. Then I hear "5, 4, 3, 2, 1, liftoff!" I hear the roar of the of the engines, and then I was shooting right in to the sky. I could feel my my heart-beat in my chest. When I leave earth's atmosphere I said "I hope I don't fail!" and I turn up the thrusters, and was on my way to Mars. Wait I see something coming this way? It is a asteroid I need to move but how? The asteroid just missed me by a hair, well I need to get to Mars. I can't delay! I see the red planet not that far from me, my ship lands and I jump out. I plant the flag and then what a trip. I just can't to get home and tell them what I did.
